Grandpa's Snuggles: The English Tale of a Lovable Grandfather

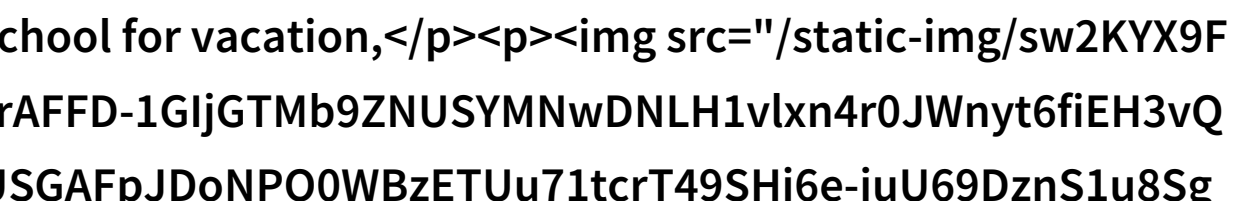

In the heartwarming tale of “爷爷总是趴在妈妈身上睡觉英语,” we find ourselves immersed in the loving bond between a grandfather and his grandchildren. This story is not just about sleeping arrangements but also about the importance of family, love, and communication.

The grandfather in this story has always been particularly close to his grandchildren. He loves nothing more than spending time with them, sharing stories, playing games, or simply cuddling up together for a nap. However, there's one peculiar habit that has become an endearing part of their daily routine - grandpa always tends to sleep on top of mom.

It all started when grandma was pregnant with their first child. Grandpa would often sit by her side at night, keeping her company as she drifted off to sleep. As time went on and children began to grow older, they'd snuggle up next to him during naps or bedtime stories. Eventually, it became second nature for grandpa to rest his weary head on mom's lap while everyone else slept peacefully around them.

One day during summer break when their kids were home from school for vacation,
